Global Content

All non-event content is housed within the Website tab of Showtime, including the Global Content module.

The Global Content area manages a variety of dynamic content depending on your site, but some of the most common content items include: any header and footer links, including footer FAQs, as well as any homepage and event listing promos. To edit, select the appropriate element, input the new or edited information, and be sure to click save to publish your changes. Some premium features like the intro panel are also managed under global content, so be sure to take a look within your own Showtime to familiarize yourself with the elements that live under global content for your site.
